Private Readings

There are many forms of Divination, some people use the Tarot card others use a crystal ball. What ever the Medium or reader uses, they are a key to the spirit world. This key allows us to go deep into the world of the unknown in order to connect with spirit.

Cowrie Shells /Diloggun

For over 40 years I have used the ancient African tool of the Cowrie Shells. The system is over 800 years old and has been handed down from ancestor to ancestor. We use 16 shells at a time. There are 256 combinations in which we gather the information to guide you. With each throw of the shells we determine if the information is in ASHE or OGSOBO. This means if the reading is in the positive or negative.

Negative does not mean bad, It simply means that things are out of balance. The solution when given is to help you get back in balance. This is the "healing" that the reading offers you.

In a full session (60-75 minutes) we look into your life and how it aligns with your spiritual connection. The reading tells you what issues you may have had in the past (from childhood) or the present. Readings don't really tell your future, but it does tell you what you might need to do in order to assure a better tomorrow.

Meaning of the Shells/Diloggun

These sacred shells are said to be the doorway through which we can access the world of the ancestors, the world that holds infinite knowledge and wisdom and a timeless view we cannot otherwise tap into. Whether tossed on a grass mat, laid on a wooden board, or spread on a sacred cloth, cowrie shell reading is an age-old art, rich in history and tribal tradition.

WHY HAVE A READING?

There are many reasons why you may want to have a reading:

- You may want to connect with your ancestor.
- You may be looking to connect with your spirit guides.
- You feel that you are out of balance and need direction.
- Resolve issues in your life that you may feel are blocking you.

PERSONAL CHANNELING SESSION

Find who your Spirt Guides are

And how to work with them

Have you wondered who your spirit guides are? In this channeling session I will help you to discover who they are and how you can work with them.

Spirit Guides are simply human souls that have evolved to higher levels and assist those living earthly lives. They are the same 'species' as we are, and they strive to help us learn and grow as souls. Spirit Guides, typically have lived many earthly lives to grow to a higher evolvment as souls.

In this in-depth session I am in working with my guides in order to connect with yours.

Providing you with the information as to who they are for you, what their purpose if how long they have been with you and how you can connect with them in order to have them guide you in this life.

Spirit guides can be ancestors from this life or a previous life, they may also be enlightened, teachers, or they can be Angels.

The session is between 1 & 2 hours long depending on the development of your spirit guide and what they may have to offer you.

You are invited to record the session in order for you to have a record. Sometimes there is so much information that you may not remember it all.
